SUPERINTENDENT GRIESBACH has been instructed to warn all parties against taking intoxicants into the district of Athabasca, as the prohibitory provisions of the Northwest Act are still in force in all the Territories north of the north line of the district of Alberta. W. C. VAN HORNE, president of the C. P. R., started on the 13th from Montreal for the Pacific coast. The Free Press gives the particulars of his party and route, which apparently does not include Edmonton. The party was expected to reach Winnipeg on Tuesday or Wednesday. They travel only by daylight.

ROBERT KERR, general passenger agent C. P. R. western division, arrived on Monday's train in his private car and took in the town on Tuesday. Mr. Kerr was delighted with the appearance of the country from the Lone Pine north, and surprised at the rapid progress of settlement along the C. & E. line. He went out on Wednesday's train.

The bricks which he makes are 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches. He has a sample with him. Mr. Colley has discovered since his arrival in Edmonton a quarry of valuable building stone, samples of which he has shown the BULLETIN. The samples are of three different degrees of hardness, easily quarried, easily dressed and quite accessible. This is a most valuable find, as building stone has hitherto been thought to be out of the question at Edmonton.

THOS. ANDERSON, Dominion lands agent at Edmonton, has been appointed immigration agent at this point as well, by commissioner H. H. Smith. A number of tents are expected shortly to furnish temporary shelter to immigrants until the immigrant sheds are completed. The construction of the sheds will be commenced at once. H. D. EDMONTON.

Is splendidly situated on the North bank of the far famed Saskatchewan—one of the most beautiful rivers in the world—It is practically the head of steamboat navigation on the river and is the terminus of the Calgary & Edmonton branch of the C.P.R. It is the centre of the finest grain growing, stock raising and dairying district in Canada. It is the seat of the lumbering industry on the Saskatchewan and is in the centre of and underlaid by the most extensive coal deposits in the known world. The gold washings of the Saskatchewan extend for eighty miles above and below Edmonton. It is the only gateway to the Peace, Athabasca and Mackenzie river regions, which cover nearly one-fourth of the area of Canada. The trade of that vast region—at present the greatest fur producing territory in the world, but with wide areas of agricultural lands on Peace river; the greatest petroleum deposit in the known world on the Athabasca, valuable forests on the Liard, fisheries in its chain of lakes second only to those of the St. Lawrence, and vast deposits of salt, sulphur, copper and iron as well—is handled by and through Edmonton. As the development of the Northwest contributes to the growth of Winnipeg the development of this still greater region must contribute to the growth of Edmonton. The Dominion Lands, Timber and Registry offices for the district of Northern Alberta—nearly as large as the province of Manitoba—are located here. The supreme court holds sittings and the sheriff and clerk of the judicial district reside and have their offices here. The postoffice is a money order office. The government telegraph line from Qu'Appelle and the C. P. R. telegraph line connect here. The town has an excellent telephone service, and an efficient electric light service. The Imperial bank has a branch here. There is a large grist and saw mill at Edmonton, and two saw-mills operated up the river have their yards here. The best brick in the Northwest is made in Edmonton. There are four coal mines within the town limits. There are four churches and two large schools, public and separate, having an attendance of over 150 pupils. Population is increasing rapidly and building operations are brisk, having never ceased since the completion of the railway in August 1891. The town was incorporated in January 1892, and is free from debt.

L. W. Child and E. Murphy, late of the State of Maine, A. Davison, from Dakota, and S. Spry, of Prince Albert, have made application through Mr. McTaggart, agent of Dominion lands at Prince Albert, to the minister of the interior, to have twelve townships of the best land in the Prince Albert district surveyed and subdivided, and upon those lands the promoters guarantee to bring in and locate 800 settlers from Maine, Prince Edward Island and Dakota. Mr. Ogilvie, D.L.S., who is at Prince Albert, is awaiting instructions, when he expects at once, to proceed with the survey asked for.

The Macleod Gazette mentions that Tony Lachapelle, a well-known old timer of Macleod, also known in Edmonton, had poisoned himself at his place near the Blood reserve.

Dr. Mead, of Pincher Creek, has been granted a divorce from his wife.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, MAY, 19, 1892

THE SASKATCHEWAN VALLEY.

In the old days Northwestern Canada was, by name, divided into three regions: the Red River, the Saskatchewan and the Plains. The former was the chief centre of settlement, trade and authority; the second was the region of most prosperous trade, of most pleasant situation, appearance and climate; the third was the buffalo pasture, from which the other two drew their chief food supply. To-day the Red River is still the chief centre of settlement and trade; the Plains have ceased to be a buffalo pasture, and although ten years of time, millions of money and untold energy have been expended upon them, nine-tenths of their area is still utterly desolate. The Saskatchewan, which it has been the political and commercial policy of the country to ignore, is now being rediscovered and the old ideas regarding its beauty fertility and salubrity are being more than verified. In the mind of the general public, all the region included under the name of the Northwest Territories is of like nature, and therefore the lack of success that has, to some extent, followed the efforts of the pioneers along the C. P. R. line across the Plains, is only what is to be expected in the Saskatchewan Valley. This is an impression which it is most desirable should be removed. It is most injurious to the welfare of the whole country and is utterly false as well. The natural distinctions between the Saskatchewan valley and the Great Plains which were so strongly marked in the old days are as strongly marked to-day. Indeed, to the pioneer who stakes his money, his time, his very life and the lives of his family, on the suitability of the new field of settlement which he has chosen, and his success in that field, the difference is far greater now than ever.

The construction of the two branches of the C. P. R. to Prince Albert and Edmonton respectively have done a great deal to open the eyes of the people of Canada to the fact that there is a Saskatchewan Valley, differing in most essential particulars from other parts of the Northwest; but even yet no idea of the vast extent, varied resources, natural facilities and favorable geographical situation of this great valley, or region, has reached the mind of the country. Most people look upon either Edmonton or Prince Albert as an oasis in a desert, instead of as only a sample of a region that extends 600 miles from east to west by at least 100 to 200 miles from north to south. A region in which there is unbroken, although varying, fertility of soil and suitability of climate for the growth of grains, vegetables and live stock. Where wood, water, hay and pasture are abundant; where blizzards and cyclones, or any approach to them, are unknown. A region pre-eminently fitted for mixed farming, having railway communication at either end and the navigable waters of the Saskatchewan through its centre, whereby the illimitable coal supply of this upper part of the valley can be cheaply distributed throughout its entire length. Although at the present time, occupying the most remote interior of the continent, and therefore further removed from an export market than other parts of the Northwest, when human enterprise has availed itself of geographical advantages, it will be nearer and not further. With the opening up of the Hudson's Bay route, Prince Albert would be nearer salt water than Winnipeg, and by way of Edmonton lies the true railway route to the Pacific coast—the only route that offers an unbroken line of cheap construction, easy gradients and no deep snow or snow slides. The Mackenzie route of the C. P. R. followed the Saskatchewan from a point nearly 100 miles below Battleford to 60 miles beyond Edmonton, and sometime a railroad will be build over this route. In the meantime the Saskatchewan is accessible at Edmonton and Prince Albert, and settlement can easily spread up and down the river from these points. Situated as Edmonton is at the head of navigation and at the base of the coal and lumber supply, the settlement of the country along the river must be an important factor in the growth of this place, and one that no combination of capital or circumstances, except our own lack of energy, can deprive us of.

FREE PRESS: "Three families of Germans for Otokawan, and seven families for Wetaskawin, both south of Edmonton, left the city on Saturday to start farming. The number altogether was sixty souls, and many more from the old country will shortly come out to join them." These parties arrived on Monday's train of last week. The first mentioned station is at the Black Mud Creek, for the Rabbit Hill settlement, and the latter is the station at Peace Hills, for Battle river settlement; at both of which places there are already German colonies.

Macleod Gazette: "The Indians have been helping themselves to the meat from dead cattle (and probably some live ones) in a wholesale way. Down the river this week they had about 200 horses at work hauling the meat away on travaux."

As a rule it is useless to say anything about prices in an advertisement as each claims to sell cheaper than his neighbor and such statements are usually taken for what they are worth. But as regards any of the above lines I intend to excel for this season any way, and a comparison of goods and prices will certainly convince the most skeptical that there has been a revolution in prices.

PRICES HAVE COME DOWN.

SAWDUST SWINDLE.

A green goods circular has been received in town setting forth in the usual terms the advantages of dealing in counterfeit money. The circular comes from New York and is, no doubt, one of the numerous sawdust swindles frequently heard of. The dealers offer to sell counterfeit United States bills for a small proportionate amount of good money. The buyer must go to New York to make the purchase. On arrival there the deal is made and the buyer gets what he supposes is a bargain in counterfeit money, but which is really only rubbish. He cannot turn the law on the dealer, for he himself is in danger for having attempted to purchase counterfeit money, while the swindler is not in danger as a counterfeiter for he did not sell any counterfeit money. The circular states that the difference between the counterfeit bills and the genuine cannot be detected. It should strike anyone that if this statement is correct the dealer has nothing to gain by selling such perfect counterfeits for genuine bills, and that if it is not correct the word of the man who makes it is not to be trusted. If, indeed, a man would not be a fool who would, under any circumstances, trust the word of a confessed counterfeiter. At the same time, the fact that such letters are written, and that men are engaged in the business, proves that they do catch suckers with their unbaited hook. The address given is F. L. Fisher, 2,102, Eighth Avenue, New York City.

An Ottawa telegram says: Armstrong, liberal, gives notice that he will move on Monday that it is expedient that power should be given to the legislative assembly of the Northwest, after the next general election of members of the said assembly, to deal with all matters pertaining to education and the use of dual language in the courts and in the proceedings of the said assembly, providing, however, that no school section, as at present constituted, shall be interfered with, without the consent of the parties composing such section.

Thus, it will be seen at a glance that Lucky Barrister is about fifteen sixteenths pure Clydesdale bred, weighs 1,650 stands 16 hands 2 inches high, as active as a standard bred trotter, and as nice styled as any horse in this country. Docile and kind. Free from vice and blemish, and is just the horse for this country. In color, he is a bright bay with the characteristic marks of the Clyde, three white feet and a small strip in the face, black mane and tail.
He has taken more prizes on Prince Edward Island than any horse of his age in his class, and his stock which is only one year old is as near perfect as can be.
P. S.—Farmers! This is the best horse in the country, therefore he is the right one to breed to. You can raise a big horse every time. Life is too short for farmers to raise trotters. Any further information will be gladly given by MERRYTHOUGHT, by Star and Galt (882) out of Jess of Moorland (5367).

The above horses are rising six, are all successful stock getters, and are for sale only at account of the company being able to spare them through further connection in their breeding arrangements.

In addition to the above stallions the Company can spare a number of heavy Eastern and broad mares, all warranted good western and all served by Pedigree Clyde Stallions. These are for sale to make room for young stock coming in to take their place.
